The following substitute specification for application 09/041,685, entitled A BIO-REACTIVE GREASE AND OIL SEPARATOR, is submitted. The substitute specification, the claim amendments and the remarks are responsive to the Final Office Action dated August 16, 2000 wherein the Examiner states that the substitute specification filed April 11, 2000 has not been entered because it does not conform to MPEP 608.01(q) which requires the submission of a marked-up copy which shows additions to and/or deletions from the original specification and that said proffered substitute specification does not conform to 35 CFR 1.125 which requires that applicants certify that there is no new matter, and moreover, the specification is not entered because

15 The following Continued Prosecution Application of application 09/041,685, 16 entitled A BIO-REACTIVE GREASE AND OIL SEPARATOR, is submitted. The 17 amendment and the remarks are responsive to the Final Office Action dated August 16, 18 2000 wherein the Examiner states that the substitute specification filed April 11, 2000 has 19 not been entered because it does not conform to MPEP 608.01(q) which requires the 20 submission of a marked-up copy which shows additions to and/or deletions from the 21 original specification and that said proffered substitute specification does not conform to 22 35 CFR 1.125 which requires that applicants certify that there is no new matter, and 23 moreover, the specification is not entered because it is replete with new matter.

24 Your applicant submits the following as a substitute specification flowing from 25 the reordering of that which was submitted as the original application. This Continued
